

A side-profile photograph of an ATR 72-600 twin-engine turboprop aircraft in flight. The aircraft is painted in the livery of Andorra Airlines, featuring a white base with a prominent red and yellow horizontal stripe running along the fuselage. The tail fin is white with a large red and yellow stylized 'A' logo. The registration 'EC-LRH' is visible on the tail. The fuselage displays the 'Andorra' logo and 'visitandorra.com' on the left side, and 'Andorra' with a small logo on the right side. Below the main stripe, the text 'IBERIA regional' and 'AIR NOSTRUM' are visible. The aircraft is flying over a lush, green, hilly landscape under a clear blue sky. The background shows dense vegetation and some small buildings nestled in the valleys. The aircraft's landing gear is deployed, and the propellers are in motion.
